Keep your yard beautiful, Keep your family active outside, and keep more time for yourself.

Introducing Passionate Petsitters' Poo Pickup —
A service that will make your life easier and cleaner, one scoop at a time.

There are countless joys to having dogs. But unless you trained your dog to use the commode, there are a few nuisances as well. Take a stroll through your backyard, and you may find those nuisances just under your feet.

Whether you are a daily scooper, a weekend scooper, or an “ignore it until the rain or lawnmowers take care of it” type of scooper, there are consequences to not cleaning up after your dogs on a regular basis.

An unclean lawn — No matter how lush and beautiful your lawn could be, with patches of dog waste, it can be an eyesore to friends, guests, and your family.

Lawn-damaging waste — Your Fido doesn't produce top quality manure. Rather, your dog's waste can result in disease, brown spots, and even harm your plants.

Less play area — Your kids, friends, and guests may wish to play football, do cartwheels, or simply have a barbecue in your yard. But having to avoid all the “landmines” is embarrassing and inconvenient. And if they can't avoid them... what a mess!

Sick pets and family — If you have multiple dogs, you may find that they are making their piles disappear... by EATING them! That can be harmful not only to your pets, but also your family.

Introducing Passionate Petsitters' Pet Taxi Service —
Safely transporting your pet to and from those important appointments.

You know just how important that veterinarian or grooming appointment is for your pet. But we also know just how important your job and your responsibilities are.

Rather than cancel or postpone the appointment, Passionate Petsitters provides a more convenient solution — Our dependable Pet Taxi Service.

Far more than simply a transportation service, our pet taxi service ensures all of your pet's needs are met. From walking and loving to providing necessary food, water, and treats, this isn't a typical New York taxi experience — it's more like a limo for Leo.

Our loyal clients use our pet taxi service for a variety of reasons:

- Because they can't take off of work
- Because they don't have enough hours in the day
- Because they don't want the filth of pet hair, drool, and pet smell in their car
- Because they can't physically lift their pet into their car
- Because they don't want to deal with the stress, hassle, and time

No matter the reason you can't get your dog, cat, or guinea pig to its appointment, our dependable pet taxi service makes it easy and convenient. Now, rather than asking family or the neighbors to transport your pet — or worse, putting it off again and again — we handle everything!

- First, we talk with you to clearly understand your goals and your pet's needs.

- Next, we come to your home and carefully prepare the pet or pets while ensuring absolutely safety.
- Then, your animal(s) are securely transported. Small dogs are placed in a kennel while large dogs are secured by a harness and strapped into the seat belt. Cats travel in a secure crate accompanied by a clean litter box.
- You can be sure each taxi ride is exclusive to your pets — no “pet-pooling” here.
- We either drop your pet(s) off at the appointment or we wait, depending on the time involved.
- Lastly, we return your pets safely to their home based on your instructions.

Don't put off that important appointment for grooming, yearly shots, or other veterinarian needs. It's too important.

Whether it is morning, noon, night or weekends, the Passionate Petsitters' Pet Taxi Service is ready to take your pets wherever they need to go.

Dog Walking Service Landing Page

Are you walking your dog the recommended 30-45 minutes a day? We will be more than happy to!

Introducing Passionate Petsitters' Dog Walking Service —
Give your dog a daily treat that benefits him physically, behaviorally, and socially.

If we all had the time, we would give our dogs a long, healthy walk most every single day. Unfortunately, between work, kids, church, gym, errands, and other responsibilities, when the day's done... we're usually done too.

Thankfully, your best friend has a chance to get some fresh air even if you can't find the time. Our dedicated team of experienced dog walkers is ready to reward him a good long walk.

Daily walks benefit your dog in a number of ways.

Exercise and health — Research shows the average dog needs 30-45 minutes of exercise a day. A daily walk is great for your dog's muscles, bones, heart, lungs, and mind! Perhaps there's no better way to help your dog live a long, satisfying life.

Energy and behavior — Does your dog tend to act out... eating furniture or shoes, urinating indoors, or growling or snapping at your family or other pets? Odds are he simply has too much pent-up energy. A daily walk could solve his behavior issues.

Social acclamation — There's no better way to get your dog used to strangers, kids, and other dogs than to take him for a long walk.

And while we're out walking your dog, you'll have more free time to spend with your family, work, run errands, or simply give yourself a little personal time.

Let Passionate Petsitters give you more time and more peace of mind that your dog is getting the quality walk he deserves.

Accommodating your schedule, not ours

What time is best for you: Morning, midday, afternoon? Or perhaps you would prefer multiple walks on certain days and a single walk on others. You choose the times and days, and our professionals will be on time, every time.

We walk your dog just the way you wish

Not all dogs are the same. While a bulldog requires a slow and brief walk, a herding dog needs a longer, brisker pace. We will tailor our walks to fit the needs of your dog, his age, and breed.

More than dog walkers... we become family

After a couple walks, your dog will run right to us wagging its tail. It becomes one of his favorite parts of his day. And frankly, it's one of our favorites as well. We enjoy bonding with your pets during our walk.
